

Texas Hold'em Bonus features head-to-head play against the dealer and an optional Bonus bet.

Players and the dealer each receive two cards. They combine them with five community cards to make their best five-card hand.

Texas Hold'em Bonus lets players bet at several different stages of the game. If the player has a strong hand after the Flop then they can make two additional wagers. If the player has a weak hand after the Flop then the player can check and not put up more money.

This game also features an optional bet, the Bonus wager. Players win the Bonus wager if their first two cards match one of the payouts listed on the payable. Odds are printed on a sign on the table and are listed below.

Game Procedures

To begin the game, players must make an Ante wager and may place an optional Bonus wager.

The dealer gives each player and himself two starting cards, face-down.

Players now have a choice:

Fold by discarding their two card hand face down and forfeit the Ante wager and Bonus wagers.

Bet by placing a wager twice the amount of their Ante wager on the Flop betting area. Once the player decides to make the Flop wager, they are not required to place additional wagers and are in the game until the end of the game.

The dealer then places the first three community cards (the Flop) face-up on the layout.

Players have a choice:

Check; or

Make a bet equal to their Ante on the Turn betting spot.

The dealer places one card face up in the spot marked Turn.

Players have a choice:

Check; or

Make a River bet equal to their Ante.

The dealer then reveals his two hole cards and announces his five-card hand. The dealer may use the five community cards to make the dealers best five card hand.

The dealer always qualifies.

The dealer combines each player's hole cards with the community cards to make the best five-card hand.

If the player's hand beats the dealer, the Flop, Turn and River bets win even money.

If the player's hand loses to the dealer, the Ante, Flop, Turn and River bets lose.

When the hands tie, the Ante, Flop, Turn and River bets push.

The Ante wager wins and pays even money when the winning Player hand is a straight or higher.

The Bonus wager wins if the player's first two cards are either a pair or an ace with a face card. Face cards exclude the ten card. The Player does not need to beat the dealer to win this wager.
